WAILUKU, July 30 .- The Wailuku Improvement Association held its After discussing the report of a committee on a garbage dumping ground, the meeting decided that the committee appoint a finance committee of its own, go ahead and raise the necessary funds and close negotiations without reporting back to the Association. H. P. Baldwin, with whom the committee corresponded, had left the selection of a site to Judge Kepoikai, land agent of H. C. & S. Co. W. F. Crockett for the fish market committee asked for further time in which to complete report, but reported that a building 40x60 containing twelve stalls, with five foot passage ways and concrete floor, would cost $1500; that Market street was the most central location and that possible co-operation with the cattle men might be obtained, thus having the selling of meats, fish and in about three weeks time. It is exvegetables under one roof, where inspec- pected that 8000 tons will be the seation by the Board of Health or the police would guarantee cleanliness.

Judge McKay for the cemetery committee stated that he held the original charter and deed of property to the Wailuku Cemetery Association and that application would be made to Circuit Judge Kepoikai to authorize the calling of a meeting of four members, which would legalize all business necessary to revive this Association.

As the appropriation of $600 for sidewalks for Wailuku had run out June 30 no report was necessary, although a motion was made and carried that the sidewalk committee be continued as they road board.

A motion was made that the vice president appoint a committee of five to confer with the road board as to needed improvements. After considerable discussion whether this committee would conflict with the road board, the motion was carried. W. J. Coelho was appointed a confe mittee of one to look after tree planting from Maalaea Bay to Wailuku and to Kahului, and authorized to call upon such persons as he deemed essential, and his methods would be backed up by the Association.

Judge Kepoikai announced that he had received a wireless message from Acting Governor Atkinson asking the Improvement Association to recommend any Federal improvements for Maui. The executive committee and officers of the Association met last evening and probably recommended a breakwater, wharves, lighthouses and other improve- Q

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB.

At a meeting of the Wailuku Republican Club on Wednesday evening, resolutions moved by W. J. Coelho were passed endorsing the Chicago nominees and the administration of Governor Carter and Secretary Atkinson, also instructing the delegates to the Territorial Convention to vote for Prince Kuhio Kalanianaole for Delegate to Congress. The meeting decided that under the Organic Act a county board of supervisors could not be elected by the people, that Congress should be asked to amend the Organic Act so that boards of supervisors could be elected instead of being appointed by the Governor and that a County Act should provide for county control of education, health, roads, bridges and wharves.

Judge Kepoikai made a speech sustaining the Governor in his administration, saying that many had predicted a muddle during Governor Carter's incumday, August 7th, while the Haleiwa Quintette Club will furnish bency, on account of his being a young music for the Luau and Dance. Be sure and engage rooms in adman and quick to take action, but that the Governor had showed the people of the islands and of the mainland, while the legislature was in special session, by his work in whipping into line the various factions, that the present territorial administration was in touch with the people. The Judge stated that he fully belived the Governor to be strictly tractive place in Hawaiian Islands, with an up-to-date, modern fair in his administration. While there had been at one time friction while he Hotel built for the Tropics. was Treasurer, they had parted the best of friends, and even after he had accepted the judgeship the Governor had expressed an opinion that if he had wished to remain as Treasurer they would always be in harmony. He believed the Governor aimed high in political life. Judge Kepoikai suggested framing County Act broad enough to conform with the Organic Act, but with limited power of the Governor and making three oards of supervisors instead of five.

PYTHIAN GOAT RAMPANT.

Ladies of the families of K. of P. brothers gave a leap year dance last Saturday evening, which was largely attended by the best element of central Maui society. Mrs. Streuback, Mrs. E. B. Carley, Mrs. W. G. Scott and Mrs. G. Hansen were the patronesses. The Maui News complains editorially that the ball was put under police espionage, an officer placing himself at the inside door with his star conspicuously displayed. It is reported by the same paper that the initiation goat of the K. of P. burst into the hall from an ante-room while the grand march was being played. "Mr. W. G. Scott, who appeared to be standing near the door," the report says, "was impaled on its horns and borne entirely across the room, while Dave Myer gallantly hung onto its tail, yelling at every jump, 'Whoa! Cyclone!' Finally the stalwart K. of P. brothers rallied, overpowered the brute and forced it back into its cell."

COFFEE FARM,

Ten years ago Judge Copp was so thoroughly convinced that coffee would grow in the Kokomo district of Makawao that he devoted fifteen acres of his home property to the berry. His original supply was from half grown trees believed to have come from the Azores, monthly meeting Thursday evening. but later abandoned. Judge Copp believes that trimming has the same effect on the trees as the bleeding of a person, as it weakens the trees and retards their growth. The entire crop, outside of supplies to a few families, is shipped in the parchment to the Hilo Coffee Mill. Judge Copp also tried pineapple raising but finds that only the Hawaiian species thrive at that altitude.
